To All,

I would appreciate hearing from Mr. Van Tol about this. It is correct that the panel is ready to issue it's Final Award pending payment from Storm of the remaining outstanding invoices. It is not unprecedented for one party to advance payment in order to assure prompt issuance of such Final Award. Before permitting this, however, the panel would first appreciate hearing from Storm concerning the anticipated timing of Storm's payment obligations. If such payment is not forth coming in a timely fashion, the panel will permit Telenor to advance such payments with an appropriate reference to Storm's obligation to reimburse Telenor in the Final Award. Please advise.

Thanks,
Ken

Dear Chairman Feinberg:

It has now been four weeks since your email of June 22, which requested the parties to satisfy all outstanding invoices "in the next few days" so that the Tribunal could release its final award. Telenor Mobile did so, but it appears that Storm still has not paid either or both of the final invoices sent by you and Mr. Craig. In order to avoid further delay, Telenor Mobile is willing to advance payment on those invoices by wire transfer as soon as copies are sent to Orrick, provided that the Final Award includes such advances as a recoverable cost to Telenor Mobile. We are available to discuss this at the convenience of the Tribunal and of Storm's counsel.

Respectfully,

Peter O'Driscoll
